

RENAME STILWELL ROAD SUPERVISOR

Appointed by Commissioners as Superintendent of Highways for Another Term.

QUARTERLY REPORTS FILED

Former Treasurer Alberring Turns Over $73.88 Above Amount Due County.

J. L. Stilwell, of Owen township, was re-appointed county superintendent of highways for a term of two years by the members of the board of county commissioners at their regular session held today. It is stated that there were three other applicants for the appointment who were considered by the members of the board before it made the appointment.

The county officials made their quarterly report of fees received during the last three months which were as follows: county clerk, $608.70; auditor, $77.15; recorder, $770.90; sheriff, $243.50; county superintendent of poor farm, $800.30. The final report of Henry Alberring, former county treasurer, whose term of office expired December 31, was also filed. The report shows that the treasurer should have on hands $180,243.94 and that in settling up he turned over $180,317.82 which is $74.88 more than is due the county. If the report is approved by the state board of accounts the $73.88 will be returned to Mr. Alberring. The report was approved by the commissioners.

Fred Christopher was appointed drainage commissioner and Ed Melencamp and Charles Kerkhof viewers and E. B. Douglas, engineer, of the Henry Ahlert road, known as the lower Rockford road. They were instructed to make their report at the next meeting of the commissioners in February.

The commissioners will be in session again tomorrow as they will be unable to complete their work today. Among the matters that have been continued until Tuesday is the appointment of a county physician and a county undertaker.

CITY LIBRARY IS REOPENED; NEW BOILER INSTALLED

No Fines Will Be Charged on Books Returned Before, Monday January 12.

The Seymour public library which has been closed for the past month on account of the heating plant being out of commission was opened to the public today. A new heating plant has been installed and the reading rooms have been thrown open to the public again.

Miss Katherine Frazee, librarian, announced today that no fines would be charged on books now due if returned before Monday January 12. It is hoped that all patrons having books in their possession will return them before that time expires as a fine of 3 cents per day will be charged on all books due after that day.

Patrons of the library will be glad to know that it is open and that they will again have the privilege of securing literature and books.

The library will be open daily except Sunday from 10 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. and on Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE

Mercury Dropped to 5 Degrees Below Zero Early Today.

The lowest temperature of the present season was recorded early today when the government thermometer at the home of Ira Bedel, local weather observer, recorded 5 degrees below zero. On Saturday morning a temperature of 2 degrees below zero was registered, which was the lowest reading up to that time. A rising temperature is the promise of the Indiana weather bureau.

NUMEROUS CASES OF MEASLES HERE

Between Fifty and Seventy-five Children Ill—Epidemic Comes in Light Form.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES BUSY

Enrollment in Primary Grades in City School Reduced Because of the Disease.

An epidemic of measles, which is almost an annual affair here, is reported in Seymour. Between fifty and seventy-five children in the city are ill with the disease, according to health board reports. Although the state law requires that cases of measles shall be reported promptly to the secretary of the city health board, it is said that some of the cases are so light that no report has been filed and for this reason it is impossible to compile an accurate record. However, over fifty cases are on file.

Several weeks ago C. H. Wallace, city health inspector, discovered that all the measles cards owned by the health department were in use and ordered twenty-five additional cards printed. In a few days this number was used and additional cards were ordered. The quarantine for measles is not as strict as in some other contagious diseases of a more serious character, but the health law provides that homes wherein the disease has appeared must be posted.

Thomas A. Mott, superintendent of the city schools, stated this morning that there were quite a number of absentees in the primary grades because of measles. The schools reopened this morning after the holiday vacation with all the teachers present and a splendid enrollment in the various departments with the exception of the beginning classes, he said. According to the reports reaching the teachers none of the children ill with measles is in a serious condition but, of course they are not permitted to return to school until they have entirely recovered.

The small epidemic which has developed is not regarded as serious as the disease has appeared in light form. Some of the children who are found to be ill with the disease are not sick enough to keep them inside the house and it is likely due to the mild form in which the disease has appeared that so many cases are reported. Most of the cases are among children, the majority of whom are below ten or twelve years of age.

Reports from other places indicate that the epidemic is general throughout the county. Measles are reported in nearly every town and village in the county and many cases are reported from farming communities. The attendance at a few of the district schools is small because of the prevalence of the disease among the pupils. With the exception of a few cases none of the victims is seriously ill.

AGED HAMILTON TOWNSHIP WOMAN DIES SUNDAY MORNING

Mrs. Minnie Kaul Passes Away at Home Near Acme—Funeral Tuesday Morning.

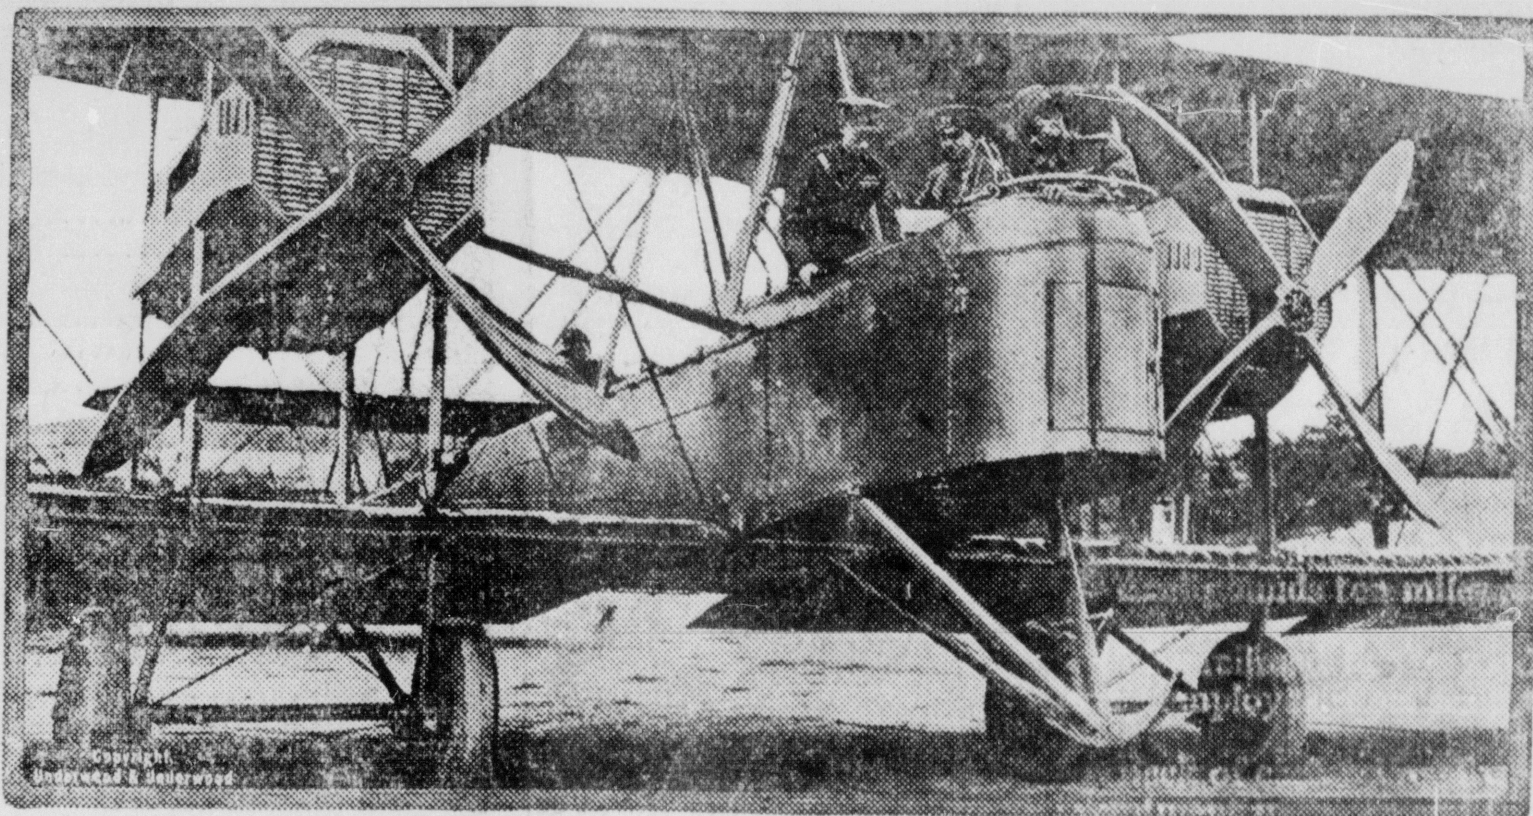

Mrs. Minnie Kaul, of Hamilton township, died at her home near Acme Sunday morning at 10 o'clock following a week's illness with a complication of diseases. The deceased was born in Germany July 30, 1846, and was seventy-three years old at death.

One daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Baurle, and several relatives and many friends survive. Her husband and one son preceded her to the grave several years ago. The funeral service will be held from the St. Ambrose Catholic church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock conducted by Rev. C. J. Conrad. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

Schools Re-open.

The city schools re-opened this morning after the holiday vacation of two weeks. The enrollment was large in all departments with the exception of the primary grades where quite a few pupils were absent because of illness with measles.

INCOME TAX DUE BEFORE MARCH 15

Indications Are That Number of Blanks Filed This Year Will Exceed That in 1919.

NORMAL RATE IS 4 PER CENT.

Exemption of $1,000 Granted for Single Persons and $2,000 for Married Persons.

Indications at this time are that the number of people in Jackson county who will be required to pay income tax this year will be much larger than that of one year ago. Many inquiries have already been made of the collector of internal revenue at the postoffice relative to the blanks to be filed by those liable to income tax. Blanks may be filed any time after January 1 and before March 15.

The department of internal revenue has prepared a number of articles relative to the payment of income tax and the information which must be furnished by single persons whose incomes are in excess of $1,000 and married people whose incomes are $2,000 or above. These are the same exemptions granted last year. The articles relative to the income tax law are concise, accurate and authentic. The first of the series follows:

ANNUAL MEETING OF LEGION JANUARY 13

Officers to Serve For One Year Will Be Elected—Many New Members Will Enroll.

The first annual meeting of Seymour Post No. 89 of the American Legion, will be held at the city building Tuesday evening, January 13. Officers to serve for a period of one year will be elected at that time.

The Seymour post at present has about one hundred members and it is believed that this number will be largely increased before the annual meeting. All ex-service men eligible to become members of the Legion are requested to be in attendance at the meeting. Already a number of former soldiers and sailors who have not joined have expressed their desire to become members and it is hoped that as many as can do so will be present at the annual meeting. Several important matters will come up for discussion. The executive committee has been called together for this evening by T. H. Montgomery, president of the Seymour post.

RECRUITING TRUCK RETURNS

Men May Enlist for Course in Army Trades School.

The United States army recruiting truck No. 1, which was recently here, will return to Seymour Tuesday and will remain here two days. The truck is in charge of Sergeant Allen. Men will be recruited for the United States army trades school. From here the truck will go to Brownstown.

UNION OFFICIALS REPORT TO MINERS

Two Thousand Delegates Met in Columbus to Hear Details of Agreement.

CANNOT RESCIND ACTION

Miners' Committee To Appear Before Wilson's Commission to Submit Miners' Case.

By United Press
Columbus, January 5—The reconvened convention of the United Mine Workers of America opened here today at Memorial Hall with nearly 2,000 miner delegates in attendance. The delegates are here to receive reports of union officials relative to the agreement they made with the government which sent the miners back to work.

"Nothing the convention can do or will do can have any effect upon the tentative agreement between the miners and the government under which the miners are now working," declared President John L. Lewis.

The convention is expected to be in session at least four or five days. Lewis announced that on January 8, the wage scale committee of the United Mine Workers will appear before President Wilson's commission to submit the miners' case.

Approval of the terms means endorsement of the present miner's union administration headed by John L. Lewis, acting president, and William E. Green, secretary-treasurer.

TWO MEXICAN VILLAGES DESTROYED BY EARTHQUAKE

Dispatches State That They "Disappeared in Ground"—Third Damaged, Reports State.

By United Press
Mexico City, January 5—Heavy loss of life in earthquakes which shook nearly all of Mexico, was indicated in advices received here today. Dispatches said two villages were completely destroyed while a third was badly damaged. Two villages were reported to have "disappeared" in the ground while the third was said to have been partly razed. Towers of the churches collapsed, burying many people who had gone there to prayer for Divine intervention when the first quake was felt.

Mrs. Frank Hess of Hamilton township, and Mrs. Dougherty of Columbus, left today for California.

ENFORCEMENT ACT UPHELD BY COURT

Act of Congress Prohibiting Sale of 2.75 Per Cent. Beer, is Declared Valid.

FOUR JUSTICES DISSENT

Brewers and Dealers Who Sold Such Liquor Between July 1 and October 28, Did Not Violate Law.

Washington, Jan. 5—By a margin of one vote the supreme court today upheld the right of congress to prohibit sale of two and three-fourths percent, beer or any other liquor containing one-half of one percent, of alcohol. The vote of the court was five to four.

After upholding the Volstead act and the right of congress to ban two and three-fourth per cent, beer, the court held the bureau of internal revenue had no right to stop the sale and manufacture of two and three fourths percent, beer before the passage of the Volstead act. This relieved from possible prosecution brewers and liquor dealers who sold two and three-fourth beer between July 1, 1919 when war time prohibition became effective and October 28, 1919, when the Volstead act became a law, but does not allow the sale now of two and three-fourths percent, made during that period.

The court held that while it could not say that liquor containing more than one half of one per cent, alcohol was intoxicating, congress undoubtedly has that power. The decision on this point was unanimous. The decision on the Volstead law is a defeat for the brewers who were attacking the constitutionality of section one of the prohibition enforcement act in hope of gaining the right of continuing the manufacture of two and three-fourth percent, beer.

An important prohibition development immediately preceded the court's decision was the announcement by Attorney General McGrav, New Jersey, that the state would not consent to the suit brought against constitutional prohibition by New Jersey liquor dealers.

Soon after reading the court's opinion, attorneys for the United States and Rhode Island agreed to postpone until Monday their argument in the case brought against constitutional prohibition by Rhode Island.

ACTION IS STARTED FOR DEPORTATION

Arrangements for Hearings of Alleged Revolutionists to be Held Promptly.

PROBE OF BOLSHEVIKI MENACE

Lenine and Trotsky Said to Have Planned Overthrow of Society Throughout World.

By United Press
Washington, January 5—Deportation action against scores of the revolutionists rounded up by the government during the last few days was instituted today by A. J. Caminetti, commissioner of immigration.

Arrangements for hearings were ordered speeded up so the deportable Reds may be hustled back to Russia and the way cleared for more nationwide raids which the department of justice may make at irregular intervals.

Investigation of the Bolsheviki menace by the Russian affairs division of the state department, show that the purpose of Lenine and Trotsky was to overthrow existing governments and standards of society throughout the world and substitute the soviet form of government, according to an official announcement made today by Secretary Lansing.

This Bolsheviki program had failed in Russia already, where its results are demoralization, civil war and economic collapse, the announcement said.

The report containing these conclusions has been handed by the state department to the congressional foreign affairs committee.

The report embraced the following subjects:

1—Character of Bolshevist rule—theoretical dictatorship of the proletariat, acknowledged to be the rule of a minority, with a definite policy of preliminary destruction is found in fact to have degenerated into a close monopoly of power by a very small group, who use the most tyrannical methods—including "Mass terror."

2—Economic results of Bolshevist control—while existing on the accumulated wealth of the country, the Bolshevist regime has brought about a complete economic collapse, with famine and epidemic. The claim of the Bolsheviki that the economic solution is wholly responsible for the chaos in soviet Russia cannot be sustained. The Bolshevist program has not worked and Bolshevism has to its credit no constructive accomplishment.

3—Bolshevist program of world revolution—one of the main aims of the Bolshevist leaders from the very beginning has been to make their movement a world-wide social revolution. They insistently declare that success in Russia depends on the development of corresponding social revolutions in all other countries. Bolshevist policies and tactics are subordinated to the idea of the international proletariat. Apparent compromises with bourgeois governments or countries have proved temporary.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE CHARGED WITH WASTE

Unauthorized Expenditures and Numerous "Extras" Are Mentioned in Report.

By United Press
Indianapolis, January 5.—Unauthorized expenditures of thousands of dollars and payment of numerous "extras" in the construction of building at the state fair grounds, were charged in two reports on the affairs of the state board of agriculture turned over to the auditor of state today by the board of accounts.

The report recites a history of mismanagement said to be unequalled in the affairs of any state department on which have been made in recent years.

According to the report, which is in two parts, expenditures were made on numerous occasions by members of the executive committee of the board individually, and by Charles Kennedy, secretary of the board.

a common ground of understanding unless both sides are ready to stand by their agreements. The right of collective bargaining becomes a menace to labor, the employers and to the public in general unless the contract that is made is regarded in the same light as any other agreement that is entered into good faith.

Capital would be rightly condemned if for any reason it should deliberately plan to close its shops, mines or mills after it had entered into a contract with the workers. As a matter of right labor cannot be justified in breaking its contract. Especially does such a breach of contract become serious when the rights of the public are abridged and prejudiced.

The purpose of the Kansas court of industrial relations is to hear the evidence in all cases of labor disputes and then decide them in fairness to all concerned. But it must be remembered that every one involved in such negotiations cannot secure every demand unless it is plainly shown that they are entitled to such demands as a matter of right and justice. Labor disputes must be determined only on the basis of justice, Arbitration and concession as the result of force produces only temporary results. What we are striving for now is to get at the bottom of the disputes, determine on what basis they must be settled in the future and then give an authorized body authority to enforce such settlements. Only in this way can labor, capital and the public be fully protected.

THE GOVERNMENT DRAGNET.

Undoubtedly many people who have been planning to overthrow the Republic, create a communistic state in America or launch a reign of anarchy in the United States worked under the assumption that they were entirely free from danger. Probably some believed that they were within their "individual rights" in trying to destroy the government. Whatever may have been their belief several thousand today know that they have been under the vigilant eye of the Republic. Before long many of this number may soon be on the high seas enroute to their former homes.

The government has been too lenient with those, the most of whom are foreigners, who would destroy American institutions of government. Doubtless, much of the trouble we are experiencing today is due to the revolutionary activities of those who care nothing for America and the principles for which it stands. But finally the authorities have awakened to the realization that the United States is too small for those who come to this country and desire to destroy the institutions which were established by the blood of American patriots.

America is open to those who wish to take advantage of our freedom and are willing to contribute what they can to the advancement of our great commonwealth. But to those who come for the sole purpose of destroying that which is held sacred to every American the gates of the Republic are closed. Many such persons have entered because of our leniency in the past. In dealing with them we have but one alternative. The government is now pursuing that course in an effective manner.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 20c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

THE KANSAS PLAN.

The Kansas legislature met in special session today to consider the proposal of Governor Henry J. Allen that a court of industrial relations be created before which labor disputes and kindred questions would be presented. The object of the proposed tribunal is not to provide for arbitration but for final adjudication of such problems. The body would be a court of last resort in such matters and would be empowered to enforce its decisions. Governor Allen presents his proposal after a conference with labor leaders, employers and many others who have made a study of the industrial unrest.

The suggestion of Governor Allen strikes at one basic principle which has not been given sufficient attention in the past. Employers have always been held responsible for the fulfillment of their contracts with labor, but labor had not in all instances looked upon its contracts as inviolate. We cannot expect to reach

What Keeps a Battery Young?

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates. Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.
Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.
But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.
Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threelined Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job for beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

amounts owed the Government through inadvertence or omissions in making out your income tax form? To sum it up, have you experienced trouble of any kind in filing your income tax return for 1918? If so, this is written for your benefit and for the benefit of more than 3,000,000 taxpayers who, on or before March 15, will file income tax returns for the year 1919. It is certain a percentage of these returns will be incorrect. It is equally certain that the percentage of errors may be largely reduced if taxpayers will acquaint themselves with the income tax provisions of the act of February 24, 1919, known as the revenue act of 1918, which provides for the collection of taxes for the year 1919 and subsequent years.
As an aid to taxpayers there has been prepared with the official approval of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, a series of short articles,

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c.

of which this is the first, telling how to make out an income tax return for 1919, when and where to file it, and what to do in case you meet with unusual difficulties. By making note of the information contained therein, it is believed that most of the difficulties heretofore encountered may be avoided.

Probably the most important change affecting the average taxpayer is in the normal rate, the exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families remaining the same as for 1918. The normal rate for 1919 is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent on the remaining net income. The normal rate for 1918 was 6 and 12 per cent, respectively. This applies to every citizen and resident of the United States. Alien nonresidents receiving income from sources within the United States are taxed to the full 8 per cent on the income from such sources.

The surtax rates, which range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent on the amount of income in excess of $1,000,000, remain unchanged.

The tax, as in 1919, may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four installments, the first of which is due on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15. The first installment must accompany the filing of the return. The period for filing is from January 1 to March 15. Heavy penalties are provided for persons who fail or "willfully refuse" to file their return and pay the tax within the time prescribed.

Forms for making returns may be obtained from offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors, post offices, and banks. If your income for 1919 was $5,000 or less, ask for Form 1040 A. If it was more than $5,000 ask for Form 1040. Returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has his principal place of business.

His Present Occupation.

"After being in business for 30 years or more, old Johnberry Judson has sold out," related the landlord of the Petuna tavern. "He said he couldn't stand any longer having everybody else telling him how to run his business."

"That so?" returned the recently arrived commercial traveler. "Is he doing anything now?"

"Not a thing but telling everybody else how to run their business,"—Judge.

Money Enough.

"Here's a splendid work, sir, entitled 'Hints on Home Building.'"

"I've no use for it."

"But, sir, it shows how to build a beautiful villa, a regular little palace, for $5,000."

"I haven't the $5,000. I haven't over $5 to my name."

"Well, the book is only a dollar."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Where She Nailed Him.

Bride—Sometimes I think that you don't love me any more.

Groom—Why, I love you just the same as ever.

Bride—Then I was right; you don't love me any more than you did and I thought your love would grow—boo-hoo!

Grand Source of Inspiration.

"Shakespeare was a wonderful writer."

"He was," replied the man who is never quite content, "considering his opportunities. But think of what he could have done if he had had this league of nations to talk about."

Sign of Sobriety.

"What was the banquet for?"

"To welcome a minister plenipotentiary."

"I hope you didn't drink too much."

"If I had I would never have attempted that word."—Kansas City Journal.

One Cause for Worry.

Arthur—Every girl likes to have a clear conscience, of course.

Ella—Well?

Arthur—But she really worries more over having a clear complexion.

—London Answers.

Not Fairy Story, Either.

Hewitt—I understand that his wife speaks volumes.

Jewett—Well, if she does he must have quite an interesting collection.

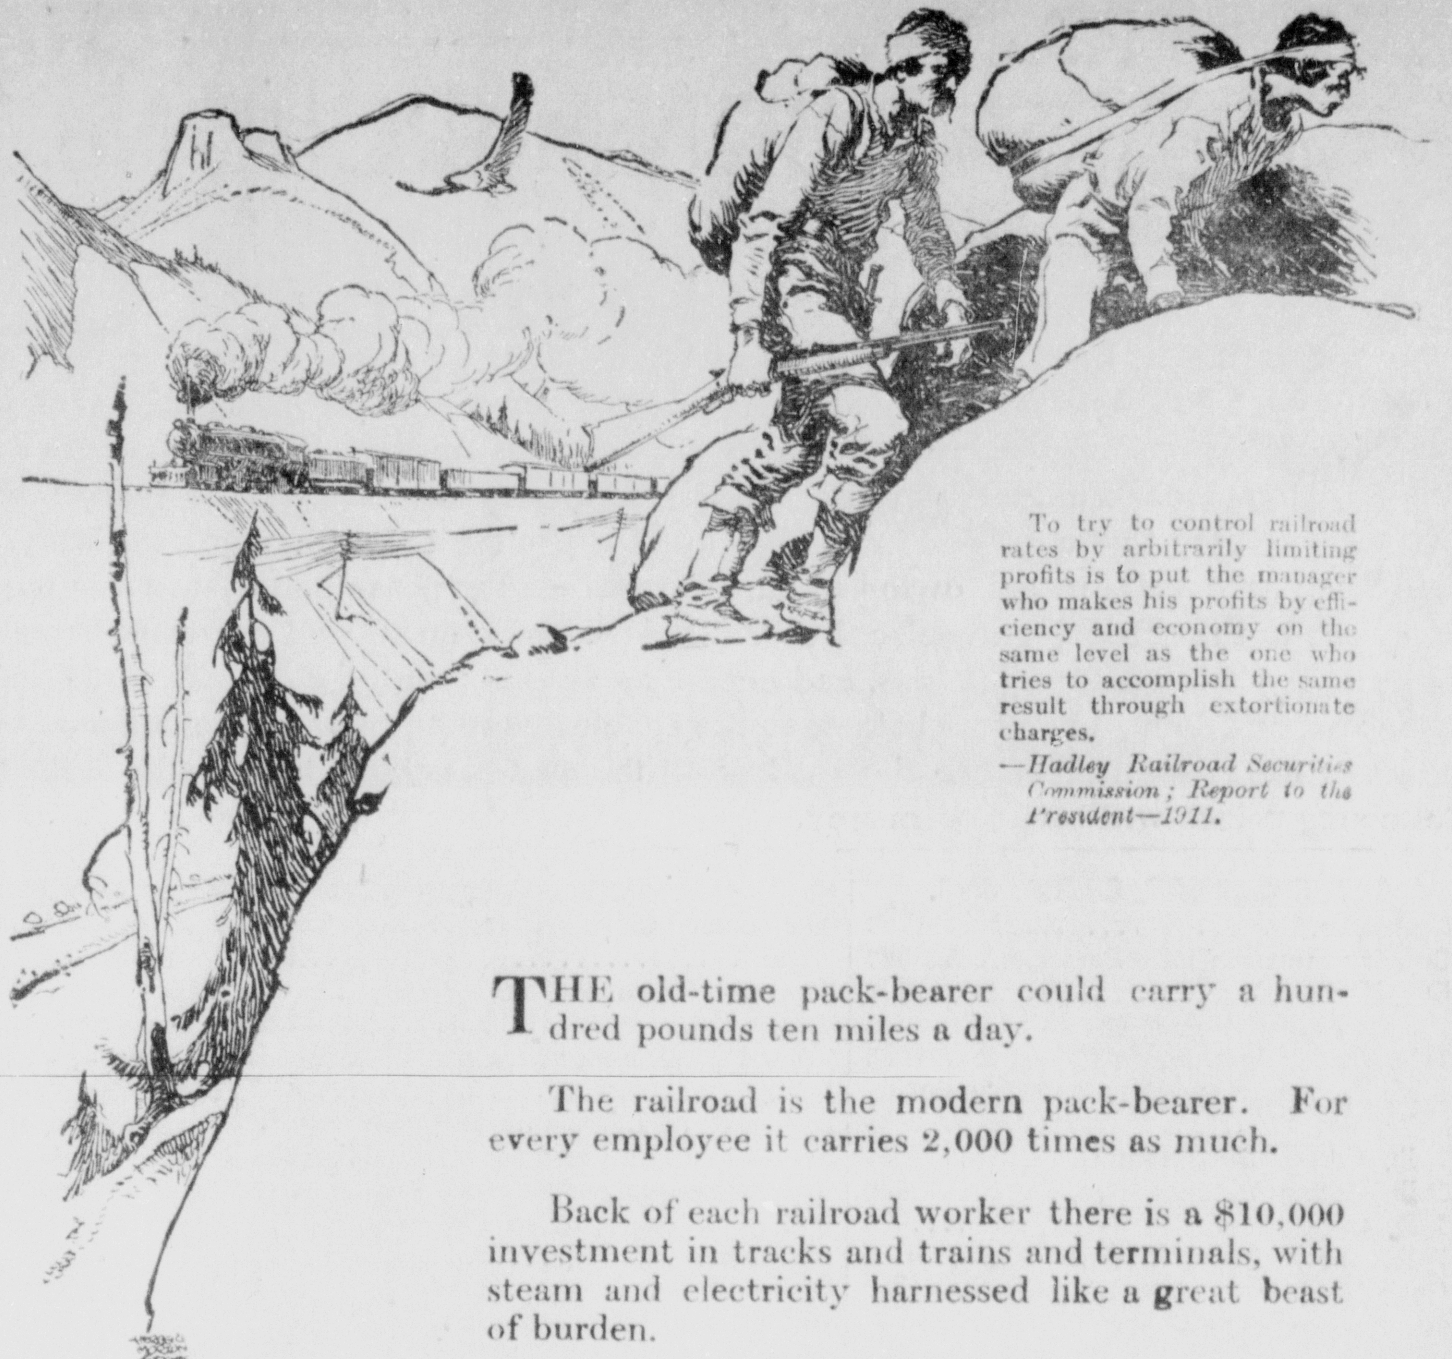

Sign of Prosperity.

"Is he prospering?"

"He must be. I notice his children are still making regular trips to the grocery store."

Miss Nora Johnson of Washington, spent Sunday night in this city the guest of Mrs. Russell J. Sanders, enroute to Indianapolis, where she is attending Madam Blakers' School.

Mrs. John Streitmeier and son, Francis, and Mrs. Elmer Streitmeier spent Friday with relatives in Seymour.—Columbus Republican.

To try to control railroad rates by arbitrarily limiting profits is to put the manager who makes his profits by efficiency and economy on the same level as the one who tries to accomplish the same result through extortionate charges.

—Hadley Railroad Securities Commission; Report to the President—1911.

THE old-time pack-bearer could carry a hundred pounds ten miles a day.

The railroad is the modern pack-bearer. For every employee it carries 2,000 times as much.

Back of each railroad worker there is a $10,000 investment in tracks and trains and terminals, with steam and electricity harnessed like a great beast of burden.

Without this mighty transportation machine the railroad worker could do no more than the old-time packer. But with it he is enabled to earn the highest railroad wages paid in the world, while the country gains the lowest-cost transportation in the world.

The modern railroad does as much work for half a cent as the pack-bearer could do for a full day's pay.

The investment of capital in transportation and other industries increases production, spreads prosperity and advances civilization.

To enlarge our railroads so that they may keep pace with the Nation's increasing production, to improve them so that freight may be hauled with less and less human effort—a constant stream of new capital needs to be attracted.

Under wise public regulation the growth of railroads will be stimulated, the country will be adequately and economically served, labor will receive its full share of the fruits of good management, and investors will be fairly rewarded.

LEAVES FOR BOSTON

Earl M. Cox Accepts Position With Lamsin Company.

Earl M. Cox left Saturday evening for Boston to accept a position with the Lamsin Company, manufacturers of store fixtures and supplies, as draftsman in the engineering department. Mr. Cox's new position will take him into the largest cities in the United States as he will be required to do much traveling in the interest of the company with whom he has become associated. Mrs. Cox will leave for Boston in the near future to join her husband.

Miss Essie Beem, daughter of Mr. Ed Nutter, who had his wrist broken at Thanksgiving time, has returned to her home in Redding town, has accepted a position covered and is able to resume his work as trap drummer in the Haas Company, as bookkeeper and stenographer. She assumed her new duties today.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, out such quick relief from your stomach misery—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

January Clearance Sale

Ending
at Close of Business
Saturday Evening
Jan. 10th

It is my custom after taking stock to move all slow selling merchandise even though it has to be done at a loss. This store has only been in operation one year and has enjoyed a steady gain in patronage ever since it started. Our past month's sales were the largest in the history of the store. We sell for cash, do not deliver, no telephone. The floors are scrubbed and the windows are washed every week. We have the most modern lights, scales, refrigerators, Elect coffee mill, meat slicer etc. Everything that one must have to conduct a first class, sanitary grocery store. If you are looking for high grade, fancy and staple groceries, fruits, meats, etc., you will find them here, sell for less, owing to our low overhead expense and chain store buying power, and in an absolutely clean store. The wise woman will always go or send some one to the grocery and select her fruits, vegetables, meats and groceries being sure of the best. I have heard out-of-town grocers say that they had to work off specked or damaged fruits and vegetables, end cuts of meats, etc., on the customer who telephoned her order in to store. The policy of this store is satisfactory service and merchandise, and being one of a chain of stores enables us to buy our merchandise at the lowest possible price, which we give our customers the benefit of. Have had several opportunities to sell this store at a good profit the past year but I have faith in the future of this store and want to make it worthy of your patronage in every way. The following prices will save you money.

SOCIAL EVENTSFOR CONCORDIA RAMBLERS.

Clarence Rittman entertained a number of guests Sunday at his home, west of the city, in honor of the Concordia Ramblers, members of a basket ball team, from Concordia College, who have been visiting in this city. The afternoon was spent in coasting, and in the evening a three course dinner was served by Mrs. August Rittman.

Covers were laid for Misses Irene Heideman, Margaret Thoele, Leona McCann, Alma Rittman, Frieda Vondelingen, Helen Hoefkamp, Messrs. Carl Ahlbrand, Edward Bucheimer, Edward Hoefkamp, Clarence Rittman and Edgar Rittman.

FOR SKIN TORTURES

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Just What You Need. Is Not Greasy

Don't worry about eczema or other skin troubles. You can have a clear, healthy skin by using Zemo. Obtained at any drug store for 35c, or extra large bottle for $1.00.

Zemo generally removes pimples, blackheads, blotches, eczema and ringworm and makes the skin clear and healthy. Zemo is a clean, penetrating, antiseptic liquid, neither sticky nor greasy and stains nothing. It is easily applied and costs a mere trifle for each application. It is always dependable.

TURKEY DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Tovey delightfully entertained a company Thursday evening at their home on South I street, with a sumptuous turkey dinner.

The decorations were charmingly carried out with Christmas decorations.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. George L. Tovey, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bridwell, Nevan Tovey, Mrs. Tovey, of Seymour, the mother of George L. Tovey, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Tovey and children.

A very pleasant social evening followed the dinner.—Bedford Daily Mail.

NEW YEAR'S DINNER.

Mrs. Margaret Bradford and daughters, Mrs. N. B. Davis and Miss Flo Bradford, entertained the following guests with an elaborate twelve o'clock dinner New Year's day at their home on North Lafayette avenue: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barbour and daughter, Miss Rachel, and son, Robert, of Seymour; Miss Margaret Bradford, of Indianapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Reed, of Columbus.—Columbus Republican.

C. C. CLUB.

The C. C. Club of the St. Paul Sunday School met at the home of Miss Elvora Lockmund on East Fifth street, Sunday afternoon. The afternoon was spent with music and games and refreshments were served. Those present were as follows:

VANDERBURG COUNTY COWS PROFITABLE, TEST SHOWS

One hundred twenty-five cows in the Vanderburg County Cow Testing Association during the past year produced an average of 5,861 pounds of milk together with 269 pounds of butterfat worth $199.13. They returned their owners $1.97 for every dollar's worth of feed. These results have been compiled by the Dairy Extension Division of Purdue University and show what can be accomplished by farmers who keep high producing cows.

A study of the results shows that the number of cows which were tested in the county was somewhat reduced from last year, but that number of pounds of butterfat was increased. The increase in the price of feed and the increase in the value of product were of the same proportions and the returns for each dollar spent for feed remained the same. Thirty-nine of the 125 cows produced more than 300 pounds of butterfat.

The highest milk producer for the year was a grade Holstein owned by George Tribble which made a record of 11,486 pounds of milk and 342.1 pounds of butterfat. Harry Grimwood owned the highest butterfat producer, a cow with a record of 10,486 pounds of milk and 502.4 pounds of fat. Mr. Grimwood also owned two other cows that passed the 500 pound mark in butterfat production. His ten grade Jerseys averaged 407.8 pounds of butterfat.

One interesting feature of the results obtained is the difference which is shown between the ten highest and the ten lowest cows in the association. The ten highest producing cows gave 7,798 pounds of milk during the year, while the ten lowest producing animals gave only 3,532 pounds for the year or a difference of 4,266 pounds of milk. The ten highest cows produced an average of more than twice as much as the low cows. For every dollar's worth of feed which they ate the ten highest cows returned an average of $2.58 while the ten low cows returned an average of only $1.57 thus showing that they did not pay for the time and work that was spent on them.

Another outstanding thing about the results obtained are the figures which show how much more profitable it is to keep the better producers. The cows which produced only 100 to 150 pounds of butterfat for the year returned $1.62 for every dollar's worth of feed consumed. Those producing from 300 to 350 pounds of butterfat returned $2.24 for every dollar's worth of feed, while the high producing cows, those that gave 500 to 550 pounds of butterfat, returned $2.69 for every dollar's worth of feed consumed.

For the month of October, Porter county stood first in the list of ten high associations in the state, with an average milk production of the ten high cows of 1489.3 pounds and 50.9 pounds of fat.

Richard Riggs of Vanderburg county was the owner of the high cow among the first ten in all the associations of the state for October. She was a grade Jersey and produced 1119 pounds of milk and 67.1 pounds of fat.

DAIRY COW NEEDS HAY AND GRAIN WITH SILAGE

"Silage has been found to be particularly well adapted to the feeding of dairy cattle, but it is not a complete feed because of its bulk, its high moisture content and its lack of protein and mineral matter. In combination with silage one should feed some alfalfa or clover hay and in addition a well balanced grain ration," says R. D. Canan, dairy specialist on the Purdue University staff.

The amount of silage to feed an animal will depend on the capacity of the animal and her ability to consume feed. In general she should be fed as much as she will clean up because ordinarily silage will form our most economical roughage. Cows in milk will consume from 25 to 45 pounds of silage a day or about 2 to 2½ pounds of silage for each 100 pounds of live weight.

The question as to the advisability of feeding frozen silage is often asked and in this connection it is well to remember that if he silage is fed immediately after thawing and before decomposition sets in no harm will result and so far as it known the nutritive value is in no way changed.

PROPER CARE AND HANDLING IMPORTANT FOR FALL PIGS

Fall pigs which were farrowed the latter part of August or the first of September should, by this time, have the flesh and size that they need to go through the cold weather, but in order to be put on the market at the greatest profit they must have the proper care and management before that time. The following program has been outlined by the Animal Husbandry Department of Purdue University in cooperation with the county agents of the state.

Self feeders are advisable for all fall pigs from the time they begin to eat concentrates until they are ready to market. Feeding of this kind should be practiced with all pigs except those that are being kept for breeding purposes. Home grown grains and their by-products supplements usually make the most economical feeds. Feeding floors should be kept dry and sanitary by the use of concrete or plenty of bedding.

Dry, warm sleeping quarters that are well-ventilated are one of the most important things in the management of the pigs. Dryness is especially important and drafts should be avoided. Lice sometimes become a serious menace to hogs and should be controlled with crude oil applied with a hand sprayer.

In case the pigs are troubled with worms the following mixture is recommended as a preventative: Finely powdered copperas, three parts; sal soda, three parts; Glauber's salts, three parts; common salt, three parts; and charcoal, five parts.

Plenty of clean warm water should be before the pigs at all times. They should never be forced to drink ice-water.

HOT WATER TREATMENT MEANS BIGGER WHEAT CROP

Loose smut, one of the worst enemies of Indiana wheat growers, may be effectively controlled and the yield of wheat increased several bushels to the acre by the hot water treatment, a report by F. J. Pipal, of the Purdue University extension department shows. Demonstrations to prove that this method will control the wheat smuts and produce a better crop were completed last summer on 85 Hoosier farms and this year to encourage the wider treating of wheat, 400 more demonstrations are under way. To conduct these demonstrations, more than 4,000 bushels of seed was treated in 49 different counties.

Central treating stations took care of the problems of treating seed in eight counties, namely: Shelby, Tippecanoe, Bartholomew, Clay, Rush, Hancock, Jennings and Dearborn. In the remaining 41 counties, the seed was largely treated on individual farms. Fields checked up last summer in which treated seed was sown in the fall of 1918, showed less than one percent of smut, and most of them none, while those fields from the same seed which was not treated, showed from 3 to 20 percent, with the average more than seven.

"The treatment also seemed to effect control of a number of other diseases besides smuts and improve the quality and yield of the grain in other respects," said Mr. Pipal. "So that the method coupled with the seed plot plan promises to place wheat growing upon a much more profitable basis than heretofore."

Treated wheat always graded No. 1 while the untreated wheat in most cases sold as No. 2, meaning a difference of several cents on the bushel.

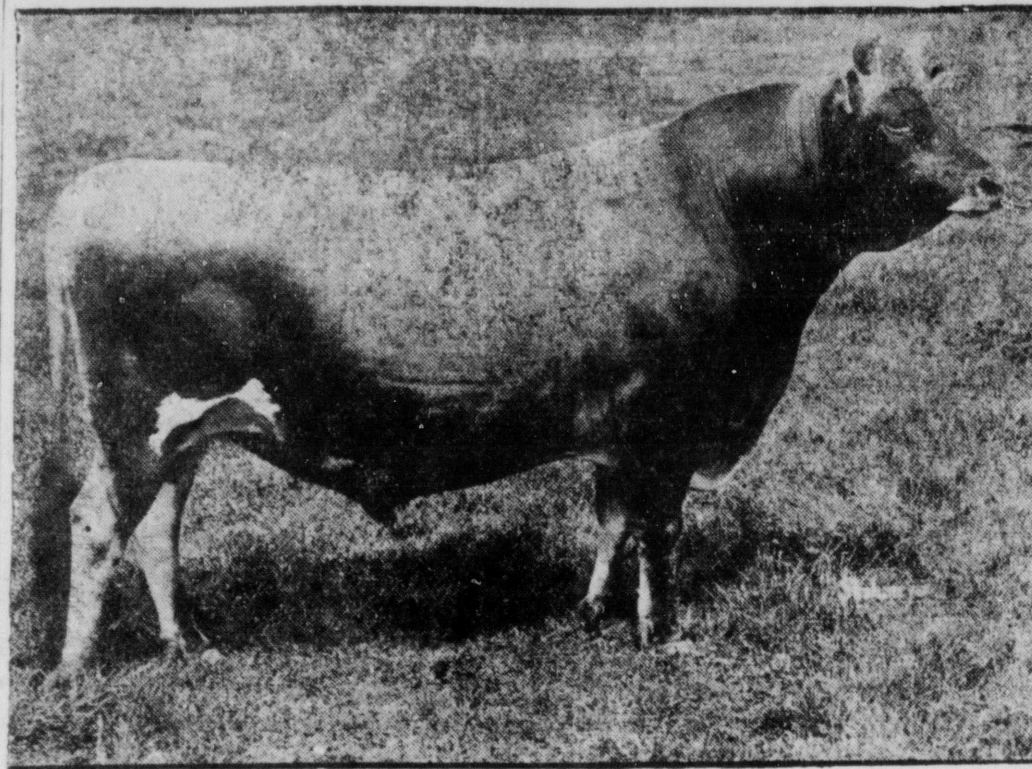

The popularity of the work and the fact that it has been shown to be very effective for the last three years indicates that much more will be treated next year and Indiana farmers will continue their work of pioneering in this important phase of agriculture.

SUCCESSFUL POULTRY SHOW HELD IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Keen competition and many entries served to make the first Pet Stock and Poultry Show of Fayette County a big success, according to reports of County Agent C. M. George. The show was held in a room well suited to the purpose measuring 108 by 50 feet and in all, 434 entries were exhibited. This number of entries included 33 different varieties of 50 rabbits of five different breeds.

Fauvic's Prince

the herd owned by Col. A. V. Barnes of New Canaan, Connecticut, has already made a reputation that will challenge any bull of any breed at his age.

He is now eight years old, has won many championships in the show-ring in the past, and this year was Grand Champion Jersey Bull at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass., and Champion Aged Bull at the National Dairy Show in Chicago.

He is the sire of twelve daughters that have averaged 9576 pounds milk and 545 pounds butter-fat with their first calves. Their average age at the beginning of their tests was twenty-five months. These are all the daughters that have freshened.

From Here and There In Indiana

Duroc Jersey hog raisers of Carroll County are making arrangements to form a breeders' association and in the near future will adopt a constitution and elect officers for the new organization.

County Agent F. W. Frank of Orange county reports that many of the township farmers' association in that county have held meetings recently and that the work in the county is now well organized. Each of the township organizations is organizing a program for 1920 in order to insure the interest of every farmer and guarantee the success of the associations.

According to County Agent H. C. Thompson, the Dubois County Swine Breeders' Association has grown to such an extent that the different breeds are finding it necessary to organize separate clubs to carry on their work. Already the Big Type Poland China men have organized their club and are holding separate meetings.

Spotted Poland China breeders of Knox County are planning to hold a sale about the middle of February and are arranging to support a pig club in the spring, according to a report of W. J. Piggott, Jr. Knox county agent.

Forage poisoning in a herd of 16 cattle in Kosciusko county caused the death of two of the animals recently.

In spite of the fact that the Farmers' Short Course which was recently held in Knox county came at a time which made it impossible for many of the farmers to attend the County Agent reports that the men who did attend were representatives of his leading farmers in the county and that some helpful meetings were held.

Many county farmers' associations over the state are revising their constitutions and raising the membership fees according to reports which are being received from various county agents.

More than 30 farmers in the Lake neighborhood in Spencer county have purchased Purdue record books and will keep account of their farm business during the next year.

A strawberry growing club among boys and girls in the county was adopted recently as a feature to be pushed by the Lagrange County Agricultural and Horticultural Society. A committee of which the county agent was chairman, was named to have charge of this work.

The best music in the world is the music the youngsters make around the Christmas tree on Christmas morning. Don't forget the tree.

The Blackford County Farmers' Association is outlining its program of work for the ensuing year in cooperation with the county agent. At every township meeting a chart is made for every farmer's name and address and it is so arranged that when this is put down, record is made of his major farming business. In this way, the association soon will learn the principal agricultural problems of the county and can go to work solving these.

The last two weeks have been spent by the county agent and club leader in Fountain county in putting

HENS DON'T WISH TO STRIKE THEY ONLY NEED SOME REST

Every farmer and poultry raiser has perhaps wondered why it is that each winter about the time that eggs begin to go up in price his hens stop laying and loaf until spring by which time eggs have returned to a common price level again. In answer to the questions of these men, Purdue Extension poultrymen say that hens are primarily valuable for breeding purposes and that the task of producing high priced winter eggs must be left to the March and April hatched pullets.

It is a normal condition rather than a formal annual strike declaration for the hens to take two or three months rest when they begin molting. If they start molting in October or November as the best hens usually do they cannot be expected to lay many eggs before January. Early molters take a longer rest, laying few eggs before spring.

PUTNAM BREEDERS START NEW SWINE ASSOCIATION

Representatives in Putnam county of the various breeds of hogs recently met with County Agent Charles A. Jackson and a representative of the club department of Purdue University for the purpose of going over plans for the organization of a pure bred swine breeders' association which is to help in the pig club work in that county. The association will also help in stamping out hog cholera which has caused considerable loss in Putnam county this year.

Up until this time the organization of a pig club in the county has presented a serious problem, but the plans which have been made are expected to give the work a successful start.

FARMERS' ASSOCIATION HAS ORGANIZED PLANS

Here is what the farmers association in Union Township, Fulton county, have decided to do in an organized way during the coming year to improve their agriculture: continue demonstrational work to show the value of fertilizers in increased crop production; continue hogging down of corn and soybeans; take part in the state-wide egg laying contest being conducted by Purdue University; start two pure-bred calf clubs, one a Jersey and the other a Shorthorn.

The program was worked out in connection with the first of County Agent L. R. Binding and will mean much in advancement of the agriculture of the county.

PIG CLUB BUYS GOOD GILTS FROM COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The Perry township Delaware County pig club of 22 members has been organized and have received their pure-bred Duroc gilts which were purchased from members of the Delaware County Duroc Breeders' Association. Most of the gilts are bred for a spring litter and the contest will be concluded next fall as a sow and litter project. Five farmers were chosen to supervise the work of the boys and girls and the management of the club will be in their hands. The surplus pigs owned by the club members will be sold at the county association sale next October.

BOYS' CORN CLUB SETS PACE FOR GROWN-UPS

The 26 boys who took part in the acre corn growing contest in Jefferson county produced an average yield of 64 bushels to the acre or about three times the average for the county. Paul Holcroft won the contest by producing 75.5 bushels at a cost of $33.15 and Leo Ringwald was second with a yield of 76.1 bushels on his acre at a cost of $35.94 which made his rate seven cents higher on the bushel. The National Branch Bank of Madison is paying expenses of two winners to Purdue to the club round-up which is to be held in April.

SHIPPING ORGANIZATION PUT ON SOUND FOOTING

The Union Mills Laporte County Shipping Association formed last spring, has made rapid strides and recently purchased the elevator from private owners there. The association is capitalized at $20,000 and a manager has been hired at a salary of $2400 and the members have their organization on a business basis.

LIVESTOCK PROGRAM FEATURE OF PURDUE SHORT COURSE

One of the features of the annual farmers' short course which is to be held at Purdue University Jan. 12 to 17 will be the program that is being worked out for the animal husbandry section. It embodies many live features which are planned to be of especial interest and help to farmers attending the course. A meat show in which prizes will be given for the best home cured hams and sides of bacon will be an innovation and one that is expected to attract the attention of every person who comes to Purdue for the five days.

Monday and Tuesday will be given over largely to hog work with K. P. Warner of Armour and Company giving a butchering demonstration and J. R. Wiley of the animal husbandry extension staff of the university judging the hogs according to market classes. Mr. Warner will show the proper way to cut the carcass up in order to prevent any waste of meat. C. M. Vestal of the university staff will then talk on feeding and give the experimental results obtained at Purdue University and Prof. W. W. Smith of the college of agriculture will speak on the feeding of breeding stock. J. W. Schwab of the extension staff will give a judging demonstration with breeding hogs.

One day's program will be featured with a discussion of swine management methods by E. P. Welborn of Cynthiana, Posey County who is recognized as one of the best hog men in the state. Drs. Craig Roberts and Kigin of the veterinary staff will talk on diseases of hogs and cattle.

Thursday will be given over largely to the work of the breeders' associations and Friday will be set apart for a discussion of sheep problems. Among the men who will talk in this connection are Prof. W. C. Coffey of the University of Illinois, Claude Harper, sheep specialist on the Purdue staff and Allen Lewis a Montgomery County farmer. Mr. Coffey will speak on "Systems of Marketing Wool" and Mr. Lewis will discuss "Essentials of Managing a Farm Flock." L. L. Heller will talk on "Wheating Uncle Sam's Appetite for Lamb."

CLAY COUNTY HOLSTEIN MEN OUTLINE EXTENSIVE PROGRAM

In a program of work outlined by C. R. George of the Dairy Extension Division of Purdue University at the second meeting of the Holstein Breeders' Association of Clay county, plans were made for the organization of a cow testing association and the purchase of two well-bred Holstein bulls for the use of the members of the association. County Agent H. E. Abbott reports that the cow testing work will probably be done by the senior high school class in vocational agriculture.

All Holstein breeders in the county either have had their herds tested for tuberculosis or are under government contract to be tested in the near future. Breeders from Parke and Sullivan counties also were present at this meeting and were enrolled as members of the association.

POULTRY POINTERS FEATURE EXHIBIT IN CLAY COUNTY

One of the features of the poultry show which was recently held in Clay county was an educational display of poultry and poultry equipment. In this exhibit were shown the laying and non-laying hen, the classification of the breeds and their uses, modern houses and their equipment. Illustrated lectures were given four nights of the week.

The county agent reports that members of the boys' and girls' poultry club carried away two silver cups, two gold medals and sweepstakes ribbons for the best pens in the show. About 500 birds were exhibited.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION MEMBERS "GET TOGETHER"

Members of the Clark County Cow Testing Association were entertained recently at a dinner in the county agent's office, the girls of a domestic science class in the Charlestown high school serving the dinner. Z. M. Smith, in charge of vocational agricultural teaching in the state, spoke briefly of the work, explaining its nature and value to a community and plans have been made already for the employment of a vocational teacher for the coming year.

The Devil's Own

A Romance of the Blackhawk War

I became so interested in the problem as to entirely forget her presence, but when I finally lifted my head, our eyes met, and I instantly read in the depths of hers the dawning of recognition.

"Who are you?" she breathed incredulously, lifting herself upon one hand. "Oh, surely I know—Lieutenant Knox! Why, where am I? What has happened? Oh, God! you do not need to tell me that! But you; I cannot understand about you. They—they said you died."

"They must have said much to deceive you," and I bent forward to touch her hand. "See, I am very much alive. Let me tell you—that will be the quickest way to understand. In the first place I did not drown when the boat was smashed, but was rendered helpless and borne away on the water. The Adventurer rescued me about daylight the next morning, and I was no sooner on board than I was told how the keelboat had been run down below on the river during the night and that your party had all been saved—two white men and two negro slaves. Of course, I knew you must be one of them."

"Then—then we were actually together, on the same boat, all the way up here?"

"Yes; I tried hard to find where you were concealed on board, but failed. Kirby guarded you with great care from all observation. Do you know why?"

"Yes," she answered, as though forcing herself to speak. "I do know now. I thought I knew then, but was mistaken. I supposed it might be because I looked so little like a negroess, but now I realize it was his own conscience. He knew I was a white woman; he had become convinced that I was Eloise Beaucare. Did you know that, also?"

"I learned the truth on the boat, from the same source where Kirby obtained his information. Eloise Clark told me."

"Eloise Clark! Who is she? How did she know?"

"A free negroess, who had been employed by Amos Shunk. She was the other prisoner on the keelboat when you were captured, kept locked below in the cabin."

"How could she know who I was?"

"She did not. Only she was positive that you could not be Rene Beaucare, because she knew that Rene, in company with her mother, had departed from Shunk's cabin before those raiders came. The two had already started for Beardstown."

GLASS OF WATER AFTER ASPIRIN

Bayer Company, who introduced Aspirin in 1900, give proper directions.

The Bayer Company, who introduced Aspirin tell in their careful directions in each package of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" that to get best results one or two glasses of water should be drunk after taking tablets.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" to be genuine must be marked with the safety "Bayer Cross." Then you are getting the genuine, world-famous Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years.

Each unbroken "Bayer" package contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, and Pain generally.

Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

She sat upright, all lassitude gone from her body, leaning eagerly toward me, her eyes alight with interest.

"Gone! Rene escaped them!" she exclaimed, her voice choking. "Oh, tell me that again. Was the girl sure?"

"Quite sure. She saw and spoke with both the women before they left in a wagon. They were on the Underground, bound for Canada, and safety."

"I am so glad—so glad," she said simply. "Now I am strong enough to hear the rest, Lieutenant Knox. You must tell me."

"There is not so much to tell, that I am cock-sure about." I began slowly. "Kirby had you securely hidden away somewhere on the second deck, while this Clark girl had been locked into a stateroom above. I possessed such a growth of beard and was altogether so disreputable looking as to be mistaken for a roustabout by the boat's officers, who set me at work to earn my passage. In this way I managed to talk with Eloise, but failed to locate your quarters. The only glimpse I gained of you was when you were being taken ashore. Then I followed, and a little later succeeded in getting you out of Kirby's hands. That is about all."

"That Man Here!" She Cried in Terror. "My God!" She Burst Forth.

"Oh, no, it is not—you came too late."

"Too late! Perhaps I may know what you mean."

"Do you? Surely not to blame me! I—I wish to tell you, Lieutenant Knox, but—I scarcely know how. It is all so dim, indistinct in my own mind—and yet I remember. Have I been drugged?"

"Without question. We have been riding all night and you were strapped to your horse. Probably you have no recollection of this?"

She shook her head in bewilderment. "No; the last I remember I was with Kirby and another man. He—he was dressed like a minister, but—but he was half drunk, and once he swore at me. The place where we were was a little shack in the side of a hill, with stone walls. Kirby took me there from the steamer, together with a man he called Rale—Jack Rale. They locked me in and left me alone after dark. Then this other man, who dressed like a minister, came back with Kirby. They had food and something to drink with them, and lit a lamp so that we could see. It was awfully dismal and dark in there."

She pressed her hands to her head despairingly. "I can remember all this, but later it is not so clear; it fades out, like a dream."

"Try to tell me all you can," I urged.

"They fed you?"

"Yes, I managed to eat a little, but I would not drink. They both became angry then and frightened me, but they did compel me to swallow some of the stuff. Then I became dazed and partially helpless. I had no will of my own, no power of resistance."

"You were married to Kirby?"

"Oh, God!—was I? I wondered; I did not really know; truly I did not know. I seem to remember that I stood up, and then signed some paper, but nothing had any meaning to me. Is that true? Do you know that it is true?"

I grasped her hand and held it closely within my own.

"I am afraid it is true," I answered. "I know very little law, and it may be that such a ceremony is not legal. Yet I imagine those men were certain as to what they could do. Kirby had planned to marry you from the very first, as I explained to you before. He told me that on the Warrior the night your father died."

"Yes, you said so; but I did not quite understand—he planned then—why?"

"Because he had heard of your beauty and that you were rich. Were these not reasons enough? But, after he had mistaken you for Rene, the only possible way in which he could hope to gain you was by force. Jack Rale suggested that to him and how it could be done. The other man was a friend of Rale's, a renegade preacher named Gaskins; he is dead."

"Dead! Killed?"

"Yes; we brought you away after a fight with those fellows. We left Rale bound and Kirby unconscious."

"Unconscious, hurt—but not dead?"

"He had a bad gash in his skull, but was alive."

Kennedy, puffing happily upon a pipe, came loitering about the corner of the hut and approached us. Eloise staggered to her feet, shrinking back against the wall of the shack, her eyes on his face.

"That man here!" she cried in terror. "That man! Why, he was at Beardcare! He is the one to whom I claimed to be Rene."

"Tim grinned at me, but did not appear particularly flattered at his reception."

"Not quite so fast, young lady," he said, stuttering a bit and holding the pipe in his hand. "I reckon I was that all right, just as ye say, an' that I did yer a mighty mean turn, but I ain't such a dern ornery cuss as ye think—am I, cap?"

"No, you are not," I hastened to explain. "Miss Beaucare does not understand, that is all. Kennedy here merely supposed he was doing his duty until he learned what Kirby contemplated. Then he refused to have any hand in it and the two quarreled. Shall I relate that part of the story?"

Her eyes softened, her lips almost smiling.

"Yes," she said. "I am glad to know; tell me all."

I described Tim's part in the whole tragedy swiftly, while he shifted awkwardly from one foot to the other and occasionally interjected some comment or correction.

"Then I shall count you my friend now," she said simply. "And I am so delighted to understand everything. There are four of us here, counting the mulatto girl, and we are in hiding not far from Yellow Banks."

Tim's eyes fell upon the map, lying outspread on the ground.

"An' what did ye think was best, cap?" he inquired gravely. "Tain't likely we got all summer ter sit 'round yer an' talk in. 'Tain't such a bad place, but by notion is we ought ter be joggin' long."

"Mine also. Come over here, both of you, and—give you my idea. I figured our chances in this way."

In a few words I explained my choice of route, pointing it out on the map and telling them briefly why I was afraid to seek refuge either at Fort Madison or Fort Armstrong, or, indeed, at any of the nearer settlements. Eloise said nothing, her gaze rising from the map to our faces as we debated the question, for Tim spoke his mind freely, his stubby forefinger tracing the course I had indicated.

"An' whar do yer reckon are them Injuns—the hostile ones; this yere bunch o' Black Hawks? S'pose we'd run inter a raidin' party o' them red bucks. I ain't got much hair, but I kin use what I hav' got."

"I am not sure, Tim, but I would even prefer that to being overtaken by Joe Kirby and the gang he'll probably have with him," I retorted, my gaze on the questioning face of the girl.

"However, there is little chance of our encountering such a party. The soldiers are all coming up from the South and are bound to force Black Hawk's warriors to the other bank of the Rock. There will be nothing but barren country east of here. What do you say, Miss Eloise?"

Her eyes met mine bravely, without a shadow of doubt in them.

"I shall go wherever you say," she replied firmly; "I believe you will know best."

"Then I decide on this route. Once we get beyond the swamp those fellows are going to have a hard task following us, unless they have an Indian trailer along with them. We have been here several hours; the horses must be rested. Let's eat what we can again and then start."

Kennedy stood up and stared about us at the disolate scene, the expression of his face proving his dissatisfaction with the prospect.

"O' course, I'm a goin' long with yer, cap," he acknowledged, dryly. "I never was no quitter, but this yere trip don't look so d—d easy for me, fer all that. I'll wake up thet Clark gurl an' then saddle the hosses."

MONEY.

"I'm weary of money," a man made remark.
"I'm counting it over from morning till dark."
Each morsel I eat and each drop that I drink
Brings a shower of coppers to tumble and clink.
I'd rather go thirsty than buy lemonade.
And see the change flow in metallic cascade.
I wish as along through the sunshine I roam
I had brought down a satchel to carry it home.
"I'm weary of money, although I confess
Some specimens rare hold a charm more or less.
The gold turns to silver in busy exchange,
The silver turns dark in a way that seems strange.
And all that is left at the end of the trade
Is a bunch of the stuff of which kettles are made.
Some money, of course, brings relief to the mind;
But I don't want so much that is all the same kind."

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally." UNION OFFICIALS REPORT TO MINERS

Disapproval means repudiation of them and a move in favor of the radical element within the organization.

Lewis and Green fought "to the last ditch" to force adoption of the president's proposal at the conference of union chiefs at Indianapolis while members of "the left wing" wanted to throw the entire strength of the United Mine Workers of America into the balance to obtain their wage and hour demands.

The meeting today was a reconvened session of the Cleveland convention of the miners' union, which formulated demands for a sixty percent increase in wages and a thirty hour week. Each of the 2,044 delegates represented a local union.

Explaining the purpose of the convention today, Lewis did not touch on the political turmoil within the union. He said merely:

"The only purpose of this convention is to explain to the delegates the reasons which prompted their officers in accepting the president's proposal for settlement of the strike. It is designed to promote more complete understanding among the United Mine Workers of the settlement and to secure great harmony of action among the miners and to insure maximum coal production. By harmony of action I mean a more hearty and spirited acceptance of the president's proposition."

The convention was called to order at 10 o'clock in Memorial hall. First was an address of Lewis presiding officer. He planned his address to include a review of the battle through the coal strike, of the federal court injunction against the strike, of the negotiations with the mine operators and the government's mediation, of the arrest of the international officers, the executive committeemen, the district presidents and the scale committeemen, and finally of the Washington conference between himself, Green, and Attorney-General Palmer where the president's proposal was first submitted.

Miss Madge Linke has returned to the University of Illinois, after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linke, south of the city.

SOMETHING NEW TO TOMMY

Youth Found It Somewhat Hard to Realize They Were Simply Talking About Trousers.

The reading lesson was droning on its most unhappy way, and when Willie Smith's turn came to spell out his paragraph he stumbled over the word "heirloom."

The kindly teacher put him right as to the pronunciation of the word, when up shot Tommy Johnson's hand.

"P-please, teacher, what is the meaning of 'heirloom?'" inquired that hopeful and somewhat inquisitive youth.

"Oh, Tommy," was the reply, "I am glad to see you take such an interest in your lesson. 'Heirloom' means something that is handed down from father to son—in other words, a relic."

"Oh," replied Tommy, thoughtfully, "that's the funniest name I ever heard for a pair of trousers!"

WHERE WORDS DON'T COUNT

Indians Who Know Nothing of Each Other's Language Easily Converse Together by Signs.

Most of us visiting a foreign land find it difficult to make our most ordinary wants known. The red Indian has no such difficulty; the problem of a universal language was solved centuries ago. Should an Indian from Northern Alaska go to Patagonia he could, by means of this universal language converse with his southern brethren. This would also be the case if he visited Central America or met the tribesmen of our own eastern prairies and mountains.

When the language was invented no one knows, but every Indian learns it in addition to his own. Once two chiefs of different tribes met in Washington and held a conversation that lasted nearly three hours, yet neither one knew a word of the other's language.

This universal language is, of course, made up of signs.

The Right Idea.

A colored aspirant for a commission was being examined.

"And supposing you were in command of a regiment in the field of battle and, in some manner, your men should be scattered over a territory of several miles. How would you collect them?"

"Well, suh," answered the prospective as he scratched his head, "I think I would take a little path ob dice and hollah 'Whose dollar bill?'"

Top and Bottom.

"I'm glad I'm not a Hindu soldier," remarked the private who was always late to formations.

"Why?" asked the sergeant who was always calling him down for that failing.

"It's bad enough," responded the chronically tardy one, "to get my legs dressed in time for reveille, let alone wrapping an extra spiral leggin' around my head."

Helped Where Help Was Needed.

"You told him to diet," said the young doctor's wife.

"Yes, I told him to eat only the very plainest food and very little of that."

"Do you think that will help him?"

"It will help him pay my bill."—Boston Transcript.

HOME MADE RECIPE CATARRH AND COLDS

Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and any one who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

WAS NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN

RESTORED TO NORMAL
HEALTH BY BIO-FEREN

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy—Bio-feren Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you.

Seven a day for seven days—Wonderful results.

Pipe Organ Program.

Mrs. George Appick, of Richmond, Va., who is here visiting her cousin, Mrs. T. R. Carter and other relatives, was a guest at the First Baptist church at the evening service and delighted the audience with a half hour musical program on the organ, at the opening of the evening service. Among her selections were The Pilgrim's Chorus, Handel's Largo, Cavalier Rusticana and Wagner's Catelema. Mrs. Appick has been organist and director of choirs in some of the largest churches in Richmond for several years and her interpretation of the selections she gave was greatly enjoyed by her hearers, and brought out the beauty of the tones of organ in many combinations. Mrs. Appick kindly consented to play during the services and many remained through the entire postlude. Mrs. Appick and her mother, Mrs. Jessie Leland, of Madison, who have been here for several days, returned to Madison this afternoon.
